
Over the Hill!

THE NF's mini-campaign against the new book by the convicted thug, crook and paid grass Ray Hill has had a good effect. His book The Other Face of Terror has been largely ignored by the mass media. Even where it was reviewed, little was made of his ridiculous allegations against the National Front.

An article about it in the Sunday Telegraph of 7.2.88 didn't even mention the NF, even though the book's conclusion is that the Front is the only credible Nationalist force in Britain today. Instead, it concentrated on his announcement that he had been threatened with death by a group of Italians. How thoughtful of them to wait until two days after his publication date, when it was becoming clear that the book had flopped!

LIBEL BILL

The silence from the broadcasting media was even more deafening. This was undoubtedly partly because of the enormous libel bill which the BBC had to pay out last time it relied on "facts" produced by Hill's Zionist friends in Searchlight magazine. But it also shows the considerable impact of the NF's rapid response to his lies.

The last issue of NF News shot his main allegations down in flames before the book was even published. Copies were sent, together with a more detailed four page press statement giving the NF case, to every national newspaper and broadcasting body.

This, together with Searchlight's growing reputation for landing journalists in court or in front of media complaints bodies, persuaded the TV and radio networks to avoid the liar Hill like the plague.

RIGHT OF REPLY

Only the Manchester-based Piccadilly Radio gave him airtime for his wild fantasies, in an hour long interview. But a worker there tipped off the NF that he was due to appear. So even before he had opened his mouth, NF spokesman Pat Harrington had persuaded the editor to give him the right of reply on behalf of the Movement.

Mr Harrington got almost as much time as Hill. He used it to good effect, refuting Hill's allegations and going on to explain the NF's true attitude on Race and various other policy points.

Once again, it was very noticeable that all Hill's references to the National Front are based on hearsay "evidence", and that all his allegations against us are very vague. Such rubbish would be laughed out of court if we ever get a chance to bring a libel action. That is why Hill avoids mentioning names, places or dates.

TONED DOWN

It was also interesting to see that this paid liar has been forced to tone down his allegations. What started off as "para-military training camps" (i.e. ones with guns) are now described as "survivalist training" – something completely legal and respectable, although even these are figments of his fertile imagination.

Stranger still is the different tale Hill uses to explain his "conversion" from race hate bigot to paid informer. Some while ago he said it was when he was saved by a Black after a car crash. Now, he claims it was when he watched Blacks in South Africa being evicted from their homes. Make your mind up, Ray!

The National Front's fight back against this corrupt liar will go from strength to strength. A more detailed reply is being worked on for widespread distribution. In the meantime, copies of the NF's initial statement are available from Burning Books. Simply send a stamped addressed envelope to BCM Burning, Lndon WC1N 3XX.

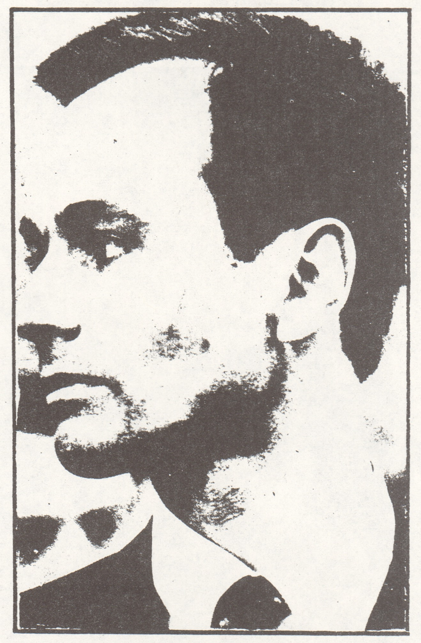
Anderson in Court



AS WE go to press, the most sensational NF expulsion case since Ian Anderson went with Martin Webster to the High Court in 1984 is about to take place. Ian Anderson is now due to appear in public open trial at Hitchen County Court, Old Park Road, Hitchen from 16th February.

Anderson joined the Front before dropping out of Oxford University in the 1970s. As a close colleague and personal friend of former National Activities Organizer Martin Webster, Anderson was rapidly promoted, becoming party Deputy Chairman and head of Administration by 1982. Acquiring a reputation for ruthlessness, he took over the prosecution of internal disciplinary actions and expulsions.

His importance reached its height in 1984. He masterminded the expulsion of Webster himself and took over the key offices of Chairman and National Activities Organizer.

ACCUSED

Anderson is now accused, among other things, of having unconstitutionally "fiddled" the purported expulsion of Victor Logan in 1983. Logan was a little known local organizer who was among many members to "disappear" during the Webster/Anderson era of the early '80's.

Logan's best claim to fame was his determination to continue NF activities even after suffering serious injuries in attacks by Communist thugs. In fact he even used payments from the Criminal Injuries Compensation Board to finance his NF General Election candidature.

Logan maintains that his expulsion was 'fiddled', involving bogus evidence and made in violation of the NF's constitution and interests. Mr Steven Brady, who is one of about a dozen figures from different stages of the NF's history summoned to appear by the court, has already made and filed a legally sworn affidavit before his local Milton Milton Keynes County Court.

In this, Mr Brady states that the leading planners of the campaign to hound Mr Logan from politics were Messrs Anderson, Woodbridge and the latter's friends Morgan and Wheatley. Morgan was the main witness against Logan at his "trial." Despite numerous attempts to contact him he appears to have gone to ground. The Bailiffs report that they have been unable to serve a summons on him. Similarly, attempts to contact Mr Anderson by phone get no further than his answer phone.

NFN will be watching with interest to see who actually turns up on the day. Next issue should carry a full report on the case and its outcome. It is important that justice is done and that the NF's constitution is upheld and respected.

Dear Editor

Scotland

Dear Editor,

As a Scottish Nationalist I support the idea of an independant Scotland, free from control of the multi- nationals and banks. I have read in NF News about what you call the "Family of Nations" and of your support for an independant Ulster. But I have not read anything about your position on an independent Scotland. Could you please inform me of your policy?

I do not understand why your paper carries an advert for badges proclaiming "Remember 1690" when you claim to be a Third Position party. Surely the NF does not support the idea of a monarchy?

The flag you use for Scotland on your front page in not the Scottish national flag, but the Stuart standard. The national flag of Scotland is the cross of St. Andrew.

Yours respectfully,
W.J.,
Glasgow.

Editorial reply: The NF's ideas on the structure of government are explained in depth in the latest Nationalism Today. Each of the British nations will be run by its own people through their National People's Council. Although a supra- national body will exist, this federated structure will give the Scottish people their independence. These ideas still need to be developed fully, when greater emphasis will be placed upon them in our publications.

Our aim in Northern Ireland is to go beyond the religious divide and to create a new focus of loyalty for all her citizens in the Ulster nation. "1690" is a problem. On the one hand it is a key date in a rich loyalist folk tradition which must be preserved. But it also involves the futile sectarianism which must die if Ulster is to be reborn. What do other readers think?

The NF does not have an official policy on the monarchy. But it is the personal opinion of the NFN staff that it is unacceptable. On a practical level, the monarchy is totally intertwined with the capitalist system we seek to destroy. Both the Queen and her heir have repeatedly made clear their opposition to Nationalism and their support for multi-racism.

Ideologically, it is a strange kind of democracy which puts such enormous influence in the hands of one individual on the strength of an accident of birth. In Britain's undemocratic constitution, parliament and the monarchy are interlinked. In the move to real democracy, they must both be dumped in the same historical litter bin!

The Stuart banner itself had no design, it was simply white and crimson. The Lion Rampant has been used since the time of King Alexander II (1214 – 1249).

Liberation campaign is needed

Sirs,

I would like to know why your Movement claims to demand the immediate closure of all foreign bases on British soil, yet does nothing to demonstrate this demand outside any one of the 100 US bases across our country.

Nationalist movements across the world have always shown their resentment at being occupied by foreign troops – the Tibetans against the Chinese; the Algerians against the French; Afghans against the Russians, etc.

• It is time to show America that British Nationalists deeply resent the occupation of our lands and that we want total independence from them: politically, militarily and economically.

As the leading Nationalist movement it is up to the National Front to organize a demonstration or a rally outside the American embassy or one of the bases. They have been here over forty years. Now is the time to show them that they are not welcome.

Briton against US occupation.
West Midlands.

Editorial comment: As NFN noted several times last year, we recognize that the removal of all aspects of Yank influence in our continent is the most important short-term task facing the National Revolutionary movements of Europe.

It is now several years since the NF's big anti-US campaign, which did involve widely publicized demos as well as the distribution of large quantities of anti-occupation publicity material. It is heartening to see demand for a renewed drive in this direction building up.

The ground is being laid for a hard-hitting political campaign on this issue, but there is some way to go before it is practical. At present the Race campaign must take priority – but we haven't forgotten the Yanks!

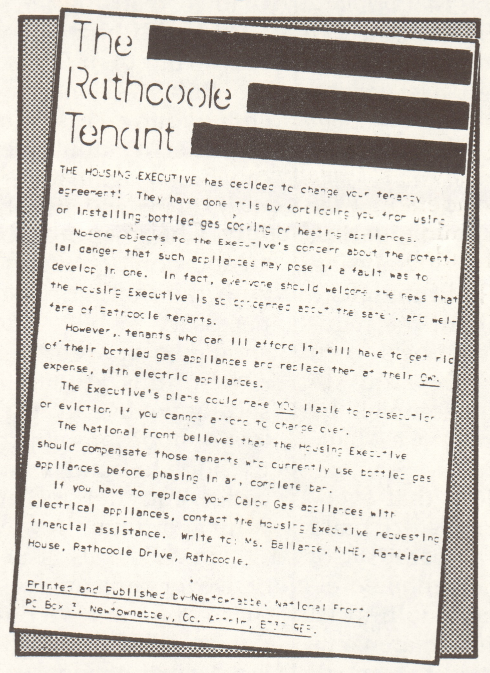
Community Action~ The Way Forward

Following a number of successful initiatives during the course of 1987, the Movement wishes to announce the formation of a Community Action Department. The task of this new department will be to co-ordinate and improve upon existing community activity by units, and to give advice and, if possible, assistance in the development of new projects.

The Community Action Department, therefore, requests all Organizers to send in, over the next fourteen days, details of all recent community work undertaken (if any), proposals for future activities, and a copy of a recent, large circulation local newspaper.

Please post as soon as possible to:
Community Action Department,
P.O. Box 57, Romford, Essex RM7 9BG.



The Rathcoole Tenant

THE HOUSING EXECUTIVE has decided to change your tenancy agreement! They have done this by forbidding you from using or installing bottled gas cooking or heating appliances.

No-one objects to the Executive's concern about the potential danger that such appliances may pose if a fault was to develop in one. In fact, everyone should welcome the news that the Housing Executive is so concerned about the safety and welfare of Rathcoole tenants.

However, tenants who can ill afford it, will have to get rid of their bottled gas appliances and replace them at their own expense, with electric appliances.

The Executive's plans could make YOU liable to prosecution or eviction if you cannot afford to change over.

The National Front believes that the Housing Executive should compensate those tenants who currently use bottled gas appliances before phasing in an complete ban.

If you have to replace your Calor Gas appliances with electrical appliances, contact the Housing Executive requesting financial assistance. Write to: Ms. Ballance, NIHE, [illegible] House, Rathcoole Drive, Rathcoole.

Printed and Published by Newtownabbey National Front, PO Box 3, Newtownabbey, Co. Antrim, [illegible]

FOLLOWING the Doagh Road by election in Newtownabbey, the local NF News Supporters Unit decided to step up their political profile in the area.

They have become very active in Community Action work and have already challenged the local Housing Executive's decision to change the tenancy agreement for some flats and maisonettes in the Rathcoole Estate.

David Kerr, Newtownabbey NF spokesman, told NFN:

"During 1987 the old Belfast gas supply was shut down. Tenants who had gas heating and/or cooking appliances either had to switch to bottled gas or electricity. At the time, the Housing Executive, which is Ulster's main housing authority, did not advise tenants which scheme to choose. However, they later told tenants that, for safety reasons, they could not have bottled gas and that they had to change over to electricity."

On hearing this, the NF leafletted Rathcoole. The leaflet praised the Executive's concern for tenants, but demanded compensation for those involved. This action gained publicity in the Belfast Telegraph and the Newtownabbey Times. Because of NF pressure, the Executive is now "reviewing" the matter and may give financial assistance to Rathcoole's tenants.

Commenting on the news, David Kerr said: "The Executive is notoriously stubborn and bloody-minded. Even to get them to 'reveiw' a decision is a victory. We are closely monitoring the situation and will act again if we don't hear from them soon."

All NFN Supporters Units should embark on similar Community Action initiatives. Help our folk fight back against local council tyranny and bureaucracy – get active today!
